Lisp (historically LISP) is a family of computer programming languages with a long history and a distinctive, fully parenthesized prefix notation. Originally specified in 1958, Lisp is the second-oldest high-level programming language in widespread use today. Only Fortran is older, by one year. Lisp has changed since its early days, and many dialects have existed over its history.

Box and Cox (1964) developed the transformation. Estimation of any Box-Cox parameters is by maximum likelihood. Box and Cox (1964) offered an example in which the data had the form of survival times but the underlying biological structure was of hazard rates, and the transformation identified this.

Functionalism is a viewpoint of the theory of the mind, the latter not to be confused with Theory of Mind. It states that mental states (beliefs, desires, being in pain, etc.) are constituted solely by their functional role in, i.e. causal relations with, other mental states, sensory inputs and behavioral outputs. Functionalism developed largely as an alternative to the identity theory of mind ...

Universal remote controls are a dime a dozen these days, and I bought one as a backup to my other remotes. The only problem with these things is that you need to know the codes of the remotes you want to emulate, and these codes are usually in the manual.

Human impacts prior to the Industrial Revolution are not well constrained. We investigate whether the decline in global atmospheric CO₂ concentration by 7–10 ppm in the late 1500s and early 1600s which globally lowered surface air temperatures by 0.15 °C, were generated by natural forcing or were a result of the large-scale depopulation of the Americas after European arrival, subsequent ...

Figure 9 -- The two governance structures are stable but the transition is unstable. Although organizational design might be simpler if it were possible to aggregate eclectic "best practices" across multiple disciplines, organizations cannot blindly mix practices without concern for complements among them [18, 69, 96, 105]. Creating a self-reinforcing organization can depend not only on which ...
